

2020-2021 plantation campaign

The 2020-2021 planting campaign has been launched with a plan for 3,570 trees, pending further contributions to reach the annual commitment of 5,000 new trees.

The 2020-2021 tree planting campaign has been planned by the Parks and Gardens Service of the Ecological Transition and Sports Delegation of the Seville City Council with the aim of reaching an annual commitment of 5,000 new trees in the city.

PLANTATION PLAN 2020-2021 - BY SPECIES

To date, for the bulk of the campaign, which runs from November, when the temperature and rainfall allow for an optimal level of soil humidity for tree growth, 3,570 new trees have already been planned through own supplies (acquisitions of seedlings and saplings from the municipal nurseries of Miraflores).

The Seville City Council will achieve the annual objective, pending various agreements with other public institutions, including the Andalusian Regional Government (through the nurseries of the Ministry of Agriculture, Livestock, Fisheries and Sustainable Development), and private institutions to undertake reforestation in various parks in the city.

With the current forecast of 3,570 new trees, 1,957 are to be planted in streets and squares (1,692 in public roads and 265 in gardens), 150 in historic parks, 963 in other large parks and 500 in other municipal areas, including the Public Works Area for school playgrounds.
