

The Gnomes

12/03/2022

Based in Dublin City University, the Gnomes are a great example of what Urban Farming can be.

Starting in 2015, a group of four young men have created a microfarm in Dublin City University Community Garden. Looking after the soil, using organic methods and taking care of the environment they produce a wide variety of vegetables that they sell locally.

Click HERE to learn about their journey or watch the video below:

The Gnomes - How We Began

Website

Facebook

s: COMMUNITY GARDENS

Popular Pages

Gardens Map

Featured Gardens

Biodiversity & Sustainability

Starting A Garden

Funding

Social, Health & Nutrition

Topics

AGM Allotments Archives Awards Community Gardens Covid-19 Food Cycle
Food Sovereignty Fruit Trees Funding Global Ideas Grants Green Communities Green Flag Award
Greenhouse Harvest Festival Mens Shed Pollinators Recycling Research schools Waste Management Water
Management Workshops

Recent Posts

2024 DCC Community Grants

2024 Spring Gathering Presentation and Annual Reports

2024 DCG Spring Gathering and AGM

Fingal Co. Council Funding information evening

f e Week Community Gardens Cycle – 2023

Neve | Powered by WordPress