

CULTURE, TRAVEL & SPORT

Trees of Friendship in the Western Balkans

🕒 October 31, 2020 📖 3 Min Read 👤 Marek Grzegorzcyk

Six Western Balkan capitals – Belgrade, Skopje, Prishtina, Tirana, Podgorica and Sarajevo – and 400 trees planted simultaneously. One goal – to prove that, by taking individual responsibility, one can make a difference at both a local and regional level.

“We at the European Fund for the Balkans (EFB) started to monitor our CO2 emissions last year. The

We use cookies to offer you a better browsing experience, analyze site traffic, personalize content, and serve targeted advertisements. Read about how we use cookies and how you can control them by clicking "Privacy Preferences". If you continue to use this site, you consent to our use of cookies. More...

- Strictly Necessary
- Comment Cookies
- Analyze website
- Targeting/Advertising
- Google Universal Analytics
- Functionality

> Privacy Preferences

I Agree

helping oneself and others.

We use cookies to offer you a better browsing experience, analyze site traffic, personalize content, and serve targeted advertisements. Read about how we use cookies and how you can control them by clicking "Privacy Preferences". If you continue to use this site, you consent to our use of cookies. More...

- Strictly Necessary
- Comment Cookies
- Analyze website
- Targeting/Advertising
- Google Universal Analytics
- Functionality

> Privacy Preferences

I Agree

understanding that we have so much more in common, we have problems that might unite us, although for decades we have heard how different we all are,” adds Ms Tomanić.

As Tomanić points out, the Western Balkans capitals rank high on the list of the world’s most polluted cities. Any steps towards reducing pollution and minimising the impact on the environment count. Tree planting seems to be one of the simplest ways of going about that.

—

Unlike many news and information platforms, Emerging Europe is free to read, and always will be. There is no paywall here. We are independent, not affiliated with nor representing any political party or business organisation. We want the very best for emerging Europe, nothing more, nothing less. Your support will help us continue to spread the word about this amazing region.

You can contribute here. Thank you.

Support independent journalism
Support Emerging Europe

Tags Serbia Albania Western Balkans Kosovo Montenegro Bosnia and Herzegovina Sarajevo
Belgrade Tirana Skopje North Macedonia Podgorica Prishtina Culture Ne Davimo Beograd
Aleksandra Tomanić European Fund for the Balkans Za čisto i lijepo Sarajevo
Environmental Territorial Management Institute Sbunker Skopje Smog Alarm Air Care Treebank
OZON Right to the City Streets for Cyclists

We use cookies to offer you a better browsing experience, analyze site traffic, personalize content, and serve targeted advertisements. Read about how we use cookies and how you can control them by clicking "Privacy Preferences". If you continue to use this site, you consent to our use of cookies. More...

- Strictly Necessary
- Comment Cookies
- Analyze website
- Targeting/Advertising
- Google Universal Analytics
- Functionality

> Privacy Preferences

I Agree